

FESTIVAL AND EVENT PRODUCTION

About / Contact

Based in Austin, TX, Festival and Event Production was created in an effort to provide the event and festival industries with one place to find detailed information on virtually every aspect of planning, producing, and enhancing event, festivals, concerts, trade shows, fairs, fundraisers, and experiential marketing.

In addition to our event and festival guides, we also feature detailed lists of event and festival vendors, event and festival staffing companies, and a carefully curated list of proven event professionals ready to work that anyone is free to contact.

This website will continuously evolve and grow, as we plan on keeping the guides updated as well as adding new articles to our event and festival newsletter.
