

double time

when hourly works earn twice the regular wage – usually occurs when the hours works in a day reach a certain threshold (i.e., any work after 8 hours is billed at double time). This can be mandated by legislation, union rules, or contractual terms.