

frequency sweep

a term that refers to ensuring that all wireless transmissions in a given area are not infringing on other transmissions – using the same frequency. Often when several bands have IEMs or wireless monitors, they will need to ensure they aren't crossing frequencies / causing interference.