

potable

fit for human consumption; usually refers to water. Non-potable water is not fit to drink but can be used for misting fans, cleaning drains, watering lawns, and other uses.