

wands

short for magentic wands, these are devices that scan for metal objects and alerts the security guard if it detects anything metal. For some events, wands are used in addition to other security measures such as bag checks to help ensure the safety and security of all guests.