I specialize in project/ event management with a marketing focus, ensuring that every event, campaign or program I put on produces successful results. During my career, I have produced and evaluated more than 1,000 events ranging from media and influencer events, corporate functions, promotional events, weddings and galas. I believe that the value of an event is found when you accompany the planning and logistics process with strategic marketing. Along with my event experience, I have a proven track record of successful and meaningful branding and marketing campaigns that has led my clients and past employers to increase sales and brand awareness. To see some of my work, visit my website www.shelbiejohansson.com.

Last Events Worked: Outside Lands, Bonnaroo, BottleRock Napa Valley, Stagecoach, Sunset Campout, Dirtybird Campout, Coachella

Based In: San Francisco, CA

Social Media Links and Bio:

I've had a passion for food and music for as long a I can remember. When I moved to San Francisco in 2009, those passions developed into a life-changing career path. I primarily work as a food vendor coordinator at festivals all over the country, but I also dabble in artist relations. As a food vendor coordinator I can build a food program from the ground up, work to improve an existing program, or simply show up onsite and help manage the madness. I take pride in strong problem-solving abilities, excellent written and spoken communication skills, and a creative spirit that leads me to think outside the box. My favorite projects are those that allow me to assist up and coming festivals in creating a framework for their food vending program, but I am also happy to join up with an existing program to help make it the best it can be.

Three Event Items I Cannot Live Without: Sunscreen, Caffeine, Leatherman

Social Media Links and Bio:

I have spent the last 2 years delving into the multiple facets of festivals and productions including site operations, stage management, audio engineering and hospitality. I began recording and producing audio recordings at a young age and I am a competent audio engineer as well as a musician. I studied classical guitar at Texas State University with an emphasis on composition and business. That being said, I don't mind getting my hands dirty and working hard for 16 hours straight. My largest strength is my ability to communicate effectively with tact and efficiency.
